PRAISE FOR KITCHIN

Says His Experience Qualifies
Him for Agricultural Commissioner's Job

Jamestown, June 7.—"If I am elected governor, it shall be the policy of the administration to have, the state of North Dakota run by North Dakotans," R. T. Nestos of Minot, independent candidate for governor in the recall election, promised Stutsman county voters who attended the independent rally held here last night. Mr. Nestos' address was an indictment of the policy, he said, that the Frazier-Lemke-Hagan administration adopted in importing radicals from other states and adding them to the state payroll. He also took occasion to commend the Committee of 42 on its selection of Joseph A. Kitchin of Golden Valley county as the candidate for Commissioner of Agriculture and Labor, declaring that Mr. Kitchin's many years of service as superintendent of schools in Billings county gives assurance to the voters that he would be a valued member of the board of administration, his experience in managing his own farming operations gives him a proper insight into agricultural problems and his record as a legislator and member of the United States army has won for him a place of high esteem among the citizens of North Dakota.

"When the present struggle is over," Mr. Nestos declared, "and the atmosphere has cleared sufficiently so that the citizens who believe in our state and its possibilities and are anxious to promote its best interests, get a chance to review the incidents of the last couple of years, I believe it will be conceded that very high commendation is due to the citizens of our state who voted in favor of the initiative measure which provided for an examination of the Bank of North Dakota. It was the adoption of this law by the vote of the people who desired to get at the truth so far as it was possible to do so, that has made it possible to ascertain many of the facts previously covered up and conditions only suspected by our citizens. If our officials had shown a disposition to give the people the facts, with reference to the administration of the various departments of the state and of the recently instituted state industries, there would have been no need of the board of auditors law. But with the officials elected by the people unwilling to let those who had a right to know discover what the true condition of our state finances were, and the amounts expended and for what expended in connection with the various industries, it became absolutely essential to adopt such a law and by means of its provision to turn the search light upon these expenditures and operations.

"Even with the adoption of this law, the people discovered last winter that it was difficult to get at the real facts of the case but even the brief and inadequate view it received was sufficient to show the people of this state, that conditions were deplorable and there is great need for a change of administration and for a reversal of this policy of hiding the financial condition of our state and its various interests from the people who have a right to know what the condition is. "The citizens of our state of voting age, now more than 225,000 strong, also feel that there are enough of such citizens and taxpayers in North Dakota who have the education, the ability and the experience to handle the work in all the branches and the departments of our state government so that these should be employed rather than to send to other states and to import from them people who have no interest whatsoever in our state and in its upbuilding. "Some objection has even been raised to the employment of so many of these outsiders in connection with the newspapers and other enterprises of the Nonpartisan league but as there are more or less of the nature of private enterprises that is a question for the membership and those in control to decide whether they want to employ citizens of the state or resort to those from outside with whom they feel a spiritual kinship.

Wants Home Employees
"But when it comes to the employment of people in the various departments of the state who are paid out of the tax monies of the state, I feel that the policy should be adopted of employing citizens of our own state as numbers possessing the education, training and experience required. When the independents assume control we shall need and desire to cooperate with the other commonwealths and with the citizens of the great Northwest in the development of our state. We shall seek and welcome such cooperation but when it comes to the administration of the affairs of our state, then surely we have enough of efficient workers and administrators in North Dakota to make the employment of outsiders unnecessary. It should be our aim and purpose to give all of our citizens an opportunity to achieve success, if they are willing to work and exercise thrift, frugality and prudence in the management of their own affairs. The roads to opportunity within our state should be kept open and every man given the chance to achieve success in life. Such a course will spur men and women to ambitious effort and will make for the greatest happiness of the individual and for the welfare of the state and its citizens."

CHARGED WITH AN ASSAULT ON CITY MERCHANTL. Fix is Arrested by Police On Charge of Assaulting Wm.
Weinstein

L. Fix, clothing salesman, was arrested last night by police and lodged in jail on a charge of assault and battery and threat to do bodily harm to William Weinstein, Broadway merchant. Fix will have a preliminary hearing today or tomorrow.

It was alleged by police that Fix is the man who attacked Weinstein late Sunday night. Weinstein, it is said, was assaulted as he was leaving the store, between midnight and 1 a. m., and was so severely beaten that he is confined to his bed. Fix and Weinstein became engaged in an altercation on the streets Saturday afternoon. According to evidence adduced before Police Magistrate Cashman the trouble arose over money involved in employment of Fix by Weinstein. Fix was fined $10 and costs. Weinstein's case was continued. The second fight then followed, police allege.

Don Lynne, of Bismarck, was committed to jail by Justice of the Peace George Dolan on a charge of burglary in the third degree, the complaining witness being H. Mortenson.

The sheriff also has in custody B. B. Lerback, arrested on a charge of having intoxicating liquor in his possession.

Some children brought to Sheriff Welch an old-fashioned large suitcase filled with women's clothes. The suitcase was found under a building near the Soo railroad yards. Some of the clothing contained in the box was of fine quality. The suitcase has been shipped to Bismarck to J. W. Williamson. Letters in the box may help restore the clothing to the owner.

BANQUET, DANCE PLANNED

Class Night in Tonight's Program of Commencement
Week

Alumni of Bismarck high school are coming from a dozen towns in the Slope country to the annual reunion to be held Friday night, according to information received by the committees in charge. They hope to make the reunion the largest the alumni of the high school have ever held.

An attractive program has been arranged for the banquet, which will be served in the McKenzie hotel dining room at 7:30 o'clock sharp. An orchestra will play during the banquet when graduates will be swapping stories of high school days. Entertainment features and toasts are on the program. Dancing at the roof garden will follow.

Must Make Reservations.
The class of 1916 is in charge of the reunion. It is announced that it will be strictly an alumni affair, the only guests who are not alumni who are permitted to attend being the wives or husbands of graduates. Benton Flow is chairman of the arrangements committee and Miss Esther Taylor, secretary of the association, is chairman of the entertainment committee.

It is asked that all alumni make reservations by sending in cards to reach the committee not later than Thursday, whether the cars sent are accompanied by money or not, as it is essential that the committees know how many will be present.

Tonight at the auditorium will be held "Class Night," one of the most important and perhaps the most interesting event of commencement week.

The program will begin with a selection from William Tell by the Girls' Glee club. The salutatory, given by Margaret Smith follows, and then the class history by Genevieve Parsons. Clara Anderson will sing a solo, "A Song of Sunshine," and the class poem follows, which is read by Philip Boese. Sarah Boyd will talk on "The Future." The pipe of peace which signifies the "burying of the hatchet" between the junior and senior classes is then given to the juniors. The class prophecy and class will, given by Jerome Conway and Charles Burke, respectively will prove an interesting part of the program. Then comes the valedictory by Edith Rupp and the class song constitutes the climax. Mary Atkinson wrote the words for the class song.

During the general assembly period this noon, Prof. C. F. Bolt was presented with the first pageant pamphlet given out. It was a special gift of the seniors to Mr. Bolt and shows the results of many years attempts to produce an annual. The president of the senior class, Warren Taylor, then presented the high school with a picture of Mr. Bolt. The picture is hung in the back of the assembly parallel to Mr. Moore's. It was draped with a large flag this morning and when the flag was withdrawn the students of the high school applauded heartily. Mr. Bolt thanked the seniors for their co-operation and thoughtfulness this year and for his gift and the gift to the school.

WALRUM BANK
CLOSES DOORS

The Farmers State bank of Walrum, Griggs county, has closed, according to information received by State Examiner O. E. Loftus. The bank's capital was $15,000. Loans outside the regular channels of business which proved inadvisable was the cause of the bank's closing, according to the examiner. Forty-seven banks have closed since last fall and of this number six have reopened, the examiner said.

FRAZIER GOES

PLATTE RIVER
BRINGS DENVER
IN FLOOD AREAOne Person Loses Life in Low-

RESCUERS ARE IN PUEBLO

Known Dead Placed at 55 With Great Increase Expected

Denver, June 7.—The flooding Platte river which yesterday overflowed its banks, entering a number of residences in Jerome park and Valder district, reached its highest stage at 1 o'clock this morning and today was receding slowly. Four bridges over the Platte have been swept away here. The damage here was not heavy.

The first loss of life as a result of flooded lowlands in Denver was reported today. Joseph Richter, 50, was drowned while seeking to save personal effects from his home.

55 Known Dead
Pueblo, Colo., June 7.—(By the Associated Press.) Known dead from Friday's flood in Pueblo today totaled 55, their bodies being taken to the Fountain school, according to reports of Red Cross officials. Forty-two bodies were at the morgue and ten had been recovered on the St. Charles Mesa.

No burials will be held for several days, it was stated today, because of the impassable condition of the roads to the cemeteries.

Property Loss $15,000,000
A committee of real estate men today estimated the property damage in Pueblo from the flood at between $15,000,000 and $20,000,000. This damage estimate is a result of an appraisal of the buildings and contents.

With recession of the flood waters of the Arkansas river to a point which made most of the downtown streets and railroad yards inaccessible, considerable progress was being made today in clearing up the streets and buildings and searching for dead bodies.

The list of known dead probably will take a big jump today, Capt. O. L. Dennis, of Denver, commander of the Colorado Ranger squad, said.

Citizen Shot
Aside from relief work and clean up of the city interest centered in the mysterious fatal shooting of E. E. Withers, prominent business man, as he was riding home in his automobile last night with his family. The top of his head was blown off by the shot. Withers had been commanded to halt when the fatal shooting occurred and was bringing his car to a stop when he was killed, according to his son, Captain Dennis was inclined to believe that the shooting was the result of accidental discharge of a weapon in whose hands no one could say today.

Install Convey System
Major Harris, quartermaster corps, in charge of installation of a food convey system, had a corps of men active today unloading trucks and getting them started to Colorado Springs for food supply.

With plans laid for a complete census of destitute families in the flood district for the establishment of a refugee camp for the installment of a complete field hospital equipment for which was expected to arrive at any hour, systematization and centralization of relief work in this district began in reality today.

The previous projects were definitely mapped out at a reorganization meeting of the Red Cross last night.

ASKS A MILLION

Washington, June 7.—One million dollars would be made immediately available for relief work in the flood district of Colorado, under resolutions introduced simultaneously today in the senate and house by Senator Philip and Representative Hardy, both of Colorado.

WORK STARTED
HERE ON NEW
SWIMMING POOLContractor Begins Work of Excavating for the Pool

Work on the new swimming pool has begun under the supervision of John L. Larson, contractor. The ground was staked off Saturday and preliminary excavation work began yesterday.

The dimensions of the pool will be 105 by 125 feet. The depth at one end will be one foot and at the other nine feet. The pool will be large enough to permit a wading pool for little tots at the one end and diving at the other. The floor of the pool and sides will be of reinforced concrete.

The pool is to be built on the general plans and specifications prepared by City Engineer Atkinson when the city commission talked of building a pool. It is hoped to have the pool completed by not later than the middle of July, Robert Webb, chairman of the building committee, said today.

The extent of the shelter house and shower baths has not been determined. It will require two weeks for the concrete to set before the pool can be filled, and the shelter house and shower baths will be built during that time. There still is need of funds to permit the completion of the pool in a satisfactory manner.

Voluntary contributions are still coming in and tonight the Rex theater will give a benefit performance for the swimming pool fund.

The curfew will ring again in Bismarck. The city commission, meeting last night, ordered the ringing of the city hall bell at 10 o'clock each night during the summer months, beginning Wednesday night. Under the new city ordinance children under 16 years of age are required to be off the streets by 1 o'clock each night during the summer months. The bells will sound ten times.

Policemen are specially instructed to enforce the ordinance, and it was stated by the city auditor that Supt. Martin will have the ordinance read and explained to the school children by the teachers.

Discuss Electric Decision

The decision of the board of railroad commissioners in the Hughes Electric rate case was discussed. It was suggested during general discussion by the commissioners that the city should have the benefit of a combined meter reading for the various city buildings.

During the discussion the portion of the commission order regarding the franchise requirement for lights for city buildings it was suggested that a rebate should be demanded by the city, which has been paying for these lights. The city auditor and city attorney were instructed to take up the matter. The franchise provided the electric company shall furnish electric current to light the city hall, electric house and city offices without cost to the city and that it shall furnish service for street lighting on a basis and rate to be made by agreement and contract with the city.

Asks Park Help

Mrs. Robert Orr, chairman of the park committee of the Women's Community Council, asked the commission to arrange for the proper maintenance of Custer park.

There have been about 40 donations of trees, shrubs and flowers for the park, which have been planted, and grass has been sown, Mrs. Orr said. Complaints have been made in the past, after work has been done on the park that it had not been properly maintained. Mrs. Orr said, and she asked that a competent man be placed on duty at the park for a few weeks until the plants were cared for as they should be and the trees trimmed and that they be watered regularly all summer. Mrs. Orr asked the co-operation of the commission, in behalf of the ladies who undertook the work of beautifying the park. The commissioners evidenced a desire to aid in the work, and indicated that a man would be hired for a limited period to care for the plantings, trim trees and generally shape up the park.

Municipal Report

The report of W. C. Cashman, police magistrate, for the period from April 21, when he took office, to June 1, was submitted. The amount of fines and costs paid was $350.90, with $64 yet to be collected. Forty-six cases were handled during this period, 44 men and two women. The charges most frequently brought by the police were for speeding, and drunkenness and disorderly conduct.

It was reported that the dog catcher, who is collecting the dog license tax, killed 12 dogs last week. He will continue searching the city for dogs on which the license tax has not been paid and will kill them.

During an informal discussion Commissioner Thompson again suggested that policemen be put in uniform.

SMITHS, JONES,

The tide changes in North Dakota. It is not the Smiths nor the Joneses who are found in great numbers in the Adjutant-General's office it has been found necessary to prepare a special index for the Andersons, Johnsons, Olsons and Petersons. The names predominate among the names of the ex-soldiers who are listed for the bonus, being far in excess of any others.

Patriotic organizations of Mandan, the Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, G. A. R., War Mothers, and Woman's Auxiliary had charge of the citizenship day program.

HUNT FOR MISSING MAN

County Commissioners Immediately Offer $500 Reward for Capture of Slayer

Fargo, June 7.—The murdered body of a 20-year-old girl was found in a room of a local hotel this morning. She had been gagged with a pillow slip, her wrists had been tied to a bed post and she had been beaten over the head.

One hand gripped a wisp of gray hair.

She came into the hotel with a young man last night and registered as Miss Marie Wick, of Grygla, Minn., hotel employees said. The girl and the man went out for lunch. After they returned the girl left a call for 7 A. M. and retired. Whereabouts of the man are unknown.

Nose Broken.
The girl's nose was broken. Blood spots on the walls indicated, authorities believe, that she had fought against her assailant who, they thought, probably assaulted her after she had retired for the night.

The fact that she was gripping a wisp of gray led to belief that the assailant was a middle-aged man and not the young man who accompanied her to the hotel.

Reward Offered.
The Cass county board of commissioners has offered a $500 reward for apprehension of the murderer.

Letter From Coleharbor.
A letter from Coleharbor, N. D., among the girls effects identified her as Miss Wick, authorities said.

Miss Wick left Grygla Monday for a visit with an aunt in Pettibone, N. D. Occupants of the adjoining room heard no sound of the struggle she made against her attacker, which was a fierce one, the state of the room indicated.

Chicago, June 7.—Demanding that the entire wage increase granted all railroad employees in the country by the railroad labor board's wage award of July, 1920, be wiped out, more than 150 railroads appeared before the board yesterday with renewed petitions for wage reductions.

Several roads demanded reductions of a flat 20 per cent cut for all employees, while others merely declared that every basis for last year's increase has disappeared and that it was now time to restore the wage schedules of April 30, 1920, prior to application of the $600,000,000 wage award.

The Baccalaureate sermon was presented last night at the Evangelical church by Bishop S. P. Spreng, of Naperville, Ill. Extracts from his sermon follow:

Theme: Sacrificial Service.
Text: John 12:24. Except a corn of wheat fall into the ground and die, it abideth alone; but if it die, it bringeth forth much fruit.
"Christ knew that for him the only sure way back to the Throne was by the cross. And what was true for Him is true for us all. It is the law of life."

"The maxims of the world ignore this law. 'Get while the getting is good.' That was the slogan of the profiteers in our late war. 'Get all you can, any way you can, and keep all you can.' Christ's maxims lie deeper than that. They are paradoxical, but none the less true, eternally true. 'He that loseth his life shall find it; he that saveth his life shall lose it.' The way to get is to give. The way to live is to die. The way to be rich is to be poor. The way to conquer is to surrender. The meek, not the arrogant shall inherit the earth."

"The law of sacrifice is demonstrated through all history. Every great advance of civilization has been made at great cost. Scientists die of the plague that the multitudes may live. Our Civil War cost a million lives of white men that four million blacks might be free. The North and the South fought each other and the Union was welded in blood. Many have perished in explorations in aviation, in great engineering achievements that mankind might be benefitted. Christian missions have cost a mighty toll of human life. Livingstone, Harrington, Carey, Morrison, Judson, Elliott and Kreeker. But the supreme example is Christ himself. He went to Calvary for the redemption of the lost world. He turned away from all suggestion of an easy way. This was the only true way."

"It is a significant fact that the two words of our English tongue, 'bleed' and 'bless' are both derived from the same Anglo Saxon root. They go together. You must bleed, if you would bless. You must deny yourself to help others. It is the only way. The Cross is our divinest symbol. It stands out clear as ever, as the supreme way of life and victory. As dying and behold we live; as sorrowful, yet always rejoicing; as poor, yet making many rich."

"This is the service to which you, as nurses, are called. It is a sacrificial calling. You cannot be selfish and succeed in your work. You must not commercialize your calling. Remember the corn of wheat must die to bring forth fruit."

TWO SELECTIONS

The class of 1922 rendered two selections, "Morning Invitation" and "Good Night," under the able direction of Mrs. A. G. Jacobson and accompanied by Genevieve Manard-Hughes, which were greatly appreciated by the audience.

TAKING WORLD'S ODDEST JOURNEY

MR. AND MRS. HAL G. EVARTS.
AUTHOR AND WIFE TAKE WEIRD TRIP IN WILDS

By Newspaper Enterprise.

Hutchinson, Kan., June 6.—The lure of adventure and the desire for more material for truly wild, wild animal stories have called Hal G. Evarts, noted author, and his wife into the far north on the world's oddest journey. And before their four months' trip is completed they will have traveled by train, stage, horseback, river steamer, ocean, steamship, dogsled, canoe and on foot.

Evarts has spent most of his life in the wilds and has put a share of them into two of his works, "The Cross Pull" and "The Yellow Horde." His wife, hailing from the flatlands of Kansas, has been on shorter trips into the lands of the animal kingdom.

A train took them on the first leg of the trip, from Hutchinson to Edmonton, Canada. Stage and horseback carried them to a point on the Athabaska river, where a fur collecting steamer will slip through to the Great Salt lake and down the Mackenzie river to the Arctic ocean. The Mackenzie trip alone is a journey of 1,650 miles.

The adventurers will hike across the mountains of the continental divide, a distance of 35 miles. Then they will canoe on the Porcupine river to its confluence with the Yukon; then up the Yukon by steamer to the head of navigation, next by dogsled to a railroad at White Horse. A train will take them to the coast and an ocean steamer to Seattle. The last lap will be via train, back to Hutchinson.

The call of the wild carried Evarts to Cody, Wyo., early in life. He had a silver fox and skunk farm. During the winter months, while snowed in, he wrote much about wild animals.

It was not until after his return from service in the World War that Evarts had these works published. Someone had left his skunk farm gate open and he turned to selling stories for a living.

How to Clean a Carpet.
Take two cupsful of ox-gall and add to it three pints of boiling water. Rub this on the carpet with a piece of flannel, and then rub with another flannel dipped in hot water, or take one cake of soap, shred it finely, add two-tablespoonfuls of washing soda and pour upon it one gallon of boiling water. Let it cool and then dip a flannel into the mixture and rub the carpet and before it dries rub with another flannel dipped in clean hot water. Ammonia added to hot water and applied with a flannel also answers well.

To heat a carpet, beat it on the wrong side first and then more gently on the right side. Beware of using sticks with sharp points, which may tear the carpet. To remove ink stains from carpets, first soak up all the ink possible with blotting paper, and then rub the stain with a flannel dipped in hot milk. Grease stains can be removed by mixing French chalk and water to a thick cream, and painting it over the spots. Let it remain on until quite dry, place over it a fold of cloth and iron with a fairly hot iron; the grease will pass into the cloth.

Why Chinese Fruits Are Fine.
Some of the Chinese fruits, cunningly coaxed and lovingly cherished through many centuries, are said by experts to be delicious. There is an orange grown in China that is reported to surpass in sweetness and delicacy any of the oranges to which the people of Europe or of America are accustomed; and it may be grown in places where the temperature falls 20 degrees below the freezing point. There is also a peach unlike anything to which the West is accustomed, and a winter muskmelon that will appeal irresistibly to the European palate. This melon is at its best in December and January. There are many other good things in China to which Europeans will doubtless be introduced in time. Of some of the choice Chinese dishes, such as bird's nest soup and the like, there are better things in reserve. The fruits are described as surpassing those of any country.

21 NURSES ARE GIVEN HONORS OF HOSPITAL

Annual Graduation of Bismarck High School Training Class is Held

Twenty-one nurses of the Bismarck hospital training school received their diplomas last night at the annual graduating exercises held at the Evangelical church. Bishop S. P. Spreng, D. D., of Naperville, Ill., delivered the address.

The church was decorated in the class colors, blue and gold. Streamers of class colors were drawn from the central lights to all parts of the church giving a canopy effect. Red roses and great sprays of spires formed a part of the decorations.

The motto of the class of 1921 is: "Where Duty and Necessity Reigns." The flower is the red rose and the colors are blue and gold. The following is the list of graduates: Hildegarde Bauer, Marjorie Cook, Hulda Hilden, Nellie Jenkins, Juanita Lestikow, Emma Lind, Cornelia Nelson, Lena Newmeyer, Clara Nohr, Emma Olson, Rosalie Puhst, Selma Pfeiffer, Lucille Rothen, Lydia Roth, Eva Schmorler, Marie Slevin, Agnes Thorne, Ella Ulrich, Marion Weber, Florence Wilbert, Mable Wingo.

The painter knows when he uses Liquid Granite on a floor that the finish will satisfy the most critical. It not only produces a beautiful, soft, deep lustre but resists the hardest usage. The occasional use of a floor mop keeps the finish in perfect condition. Liquid Granite is also fine for use on oil cloth and linoleum, and all interior work where the wear is severe.

If interested in white interiors you will be glad to know about Luxberry White Enamel. This produces a rich, smooth, snow white finish that will not turn yellow, chip or crack. Dull or gloss finish, as you prefer. Can be washed with soap and water.

Improved Roads

IMMENSE SUM FOR HIGHWAYS

During Year 1919 Over $400,000,000 Was Expended for Rural Highways and Bridges.

During the calendar year 1919, 46 states of the Union expended over $400,000,000 on their rural roads and bridges, the bureau of public roads of the United States Department of Agriculture recently announced. This total is made up of the actual cash expenditures for such items as labor, materials, supervision and administration, amounting to $389,455,831, and convict labor and statute labor, the value of which, not definitely known, is estimated at about $12,000,000. So far as possible, all expenditures on city streets within incorporated towns and cities and all items of sinking-fund payments or the redemption and interest payments on road and bridge bonds have been excluded.

The road and bridge expenditures for 1919 show an increase of approximately 33 1-3 per cent over those of 1918 and 70 per cent over those of 1914. More striking, however, is the increase in the proportion of the total funds supervised by the several state highway departments. In 1918 the expenditures by or under the supervision of the state highway departments amounted to $117,285,288, while the local road funds, over which they exercised no control whatever, amounted to $168,812,825. In 1919, however, the state highway departments supervised the expenditure of $200,292,894 as against the total of $199,163,287 expended by the local road and bridge authorities.

WHAT you lose thru baking failure must be added to baking costs—it has to be paid for.

Calumet Baking Powder will save you all of that. Because when you use it—there are no failures—no losses. Every baking is sweet and palatable—and stays moist, tender and delicious to the last tasty bite.

That's a big saving—but that isn't all. You save when you buy Calumet and you save when you use it.

Pure in the can—Pure in the baking

CALUMET
"BEST BY TEST"

It is reasonable in cost and possesses more than the ordinary leavening strength. You pay less and use less. You get the most in purity, dependability and wholesomeness.

In every way—it is the best way to keep down baking cost. That's what has made it the world's biggest selling baking powder—has kept it the favorite of millions of housewives for more than thirty years.

One can of Calumet contains full 16 oz. Some baking powders come in 12 oz. instead of 16 oz. cans. Be sure you get a pound when you want it.

TRIBUNE WANTS—FOR RESULTS

URGES BANKERS EXTEND CREDIT TO AGRICULTURE

President of Farm Bureau Says
It is Paramount Duty of
All Bankers

Des Moines, Ia., June 7.—Extension of adequate credit to the farmer was urged as the paramount duty of the American banker by J. R. Howard president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, before the Iowa Bankers association here today. Reconstruction without such credit provisions was impossible, said the speaker.

"As arbiters to credit it is incumbent on the bankers of this country to adjust their business that the farmer may have an opportunity to carry on without forced liquidation until the other fellow comes to his level of credit or income of the farmer is again restored, to his proportion in all adjustments," he said.

"On April this year, continued the speaker, 'farm products were 27.6 per cent below the average for the past ten years. No other business has yet anywhere nearly approximately pre-war levels.

"Many of you view with apprehension the growth of the co-operatively marketing development among farmers. I am for it, if well organized and directed. Our distributing systems are overgrown and tremendously expensive."

To raise the basic line of credit in agricultural states, Mr. Howard urged every country banker to affiliate with the federal reserve. He pointed out that the federal reserve bank must extend its discount periods on grain crops to nine months, however, if the farmers' needs are to be served, and on livestock paper, up to two years.

MOTHER DENIED CHILD CUSTODY BY HIGH COURT

A divorced mother, whose conduct is held to be bad, should not be permitted to have the custody of her little daughter in her own home, the supreme court has ruled, in reversing the decision of the district court of Grand Forks county, in the case of C. L. Gougler vs. Agnes Gougler. The court was divided on the case, three to two.

The decision recites that in January, 1919, the plaintiff was awarded an absolute divorce from his wife and given custody of the three-year-old daughter. Later Mrs. Gougler applied for a modification of the decree, which was given, permitting her to have the child in her own home at times. Gougler appealed from the decision, holding his former wife should not be allowed to have her daughter in her home, reciting that infidelity was a charge in the divorce. Gougler's contention was upheld.

GOOD TEST OF CHILD'S DIET

If Children Are Strong, Well Developed and Free From Allments, Food is Suitable.

The health and appearance of children are a good test of the wholesomeness of their diet. If they are strong, well developed for their ages, free from ailments and full of energy and ambition, one may safely say their food agrees with them. But if they are listless and ailing, or not so well developed either physically or mentally as they should be, and if a competent physician finds that there is no special disease to account for these bad symptoms, a mother may well ask herself if the food is right, and if not, how she can make it so.

USING NEW LAW TO GET "GOODS" IN LIQUOR CASES

Police officers are using the new prohibition law, which requires a person arrested for drunkenness, to tell where he got the liquor. Some arrests recently have been made on information obtained in this manner, police admit. The case against Mrs. Flora Robidou, charged with selling liquor, which was taken to Justice Tony Deer's court on a charge of venue, was continued until Saturday afternoon. At the same time Mrs. Robidou was arrested, Inez Racine was arrested on a statutory charge. Mrs. Nellie Chase, who lives across the street from the Baptist church, on Avenue B, was bound to district court by Police Magistrate Cashman under $200 bond on a charge of making liquor. Leo Schafer was bound over under $200 bond on a charge of bootlegging.

SILK FLAGS FOR NEW CITIZENS

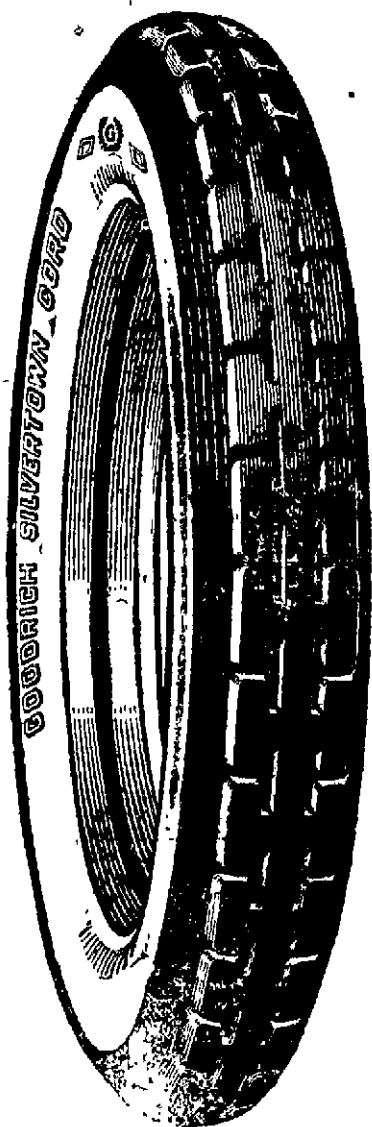

Twenty-four out of the forty-six applicants were granted citizenship on Monday afternoon at the special session of the district court. Those taking out their naturalization papers were citizens of Great Britain, Russia, Germany, Switzerland, Sweden, and Austria-Hungary. Following the taking of the oath of citizenship the "Star Spangled Banner" was sung by all present. Judge Hanley gave an excellent address, the text of which was the word "Citizen." Using each letter of that word he explained that C stood for Christianity, I for industry, T for thankfulness, I for intelligence, Z for zeal, E for equality, and N for nation. In closing he dwelt on the duties and privileges of the new citizens. Major Welch after a few appropriate remarks presented small silk flags to each successful petitioner. These flags were donated by the American Legion Auxiliary. "America" was sung at the close of the session.

Little Children Brighten Homes

EVERY young couple starting out in life has visions of joyous hours spent before the fireside with healthy, happy children; but, alas, how often young women who long for children are denied that happiness because of some functional derangement which may be corrected by proper treatment. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is just the medicine for these conditions, as the following letters show:

McDonald, Ohio.—"I suffered from a displacement, a weakness, and a great deal of pain. The doctor said nothing would help me but an operation. He said I could never have any children because I was too weak."

"I had often heard of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, so I tried it and it helped me. Now I am in the best of health, do all of my own work, and have a lovely boy six months old. I recommend your medicine to my friends and you have my permission to use this letter."

Mrs. J. C. EAGLESON, 426 Garfield Ave., McDonald, Ohio.

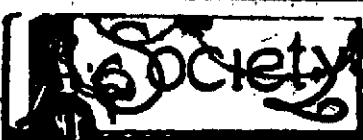

Mesa, Colorado.—"Ever since I was a young girl I suffered from a great deal of pain every month. I tried different medicines, but only got relief for a short time. I had been married seven years, and wanted a child, but was not well enough. My mother advised me to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound as it had helped her, and I am happy to say it restored my health, my pains disappeared, and I have a fine little girl. I advise all women who suffer as I did to try Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound."

CONCERT TREAT TO MUSIC LOVERS

The song recital by Thomas Egan, the Irish tenor, and Mme. Breton, soprano, was a rare treat for those so fortunate as to attend the concert, last night in the city auditorium. The program, made up of classical numbers interspersed with national airs and folk songs, called for encore after encore until it seemed that the charming artists must be physically exhausted, but always the response came clear and true and with a very general appeal.

The dramatic soprano has splendid range and well modulated tones, and the happiest of stage presence. The tenor has about everything that must go to make a successful professional singer: an excellent tenor voice with apparently limitless range, a magnificent physique, and very gracious, smiling presence. He does not carry his musical temperament on to the stage with him; it is securely in the back ground. He is wholesome and very human; a man to win friends for his art for his splendid cause of aid for the needy women and children of Ireland wherever he goes. His singing of the national anthem of the Irish Republic is an epic.

L. T. L. SUMMER VACATION.
The Loyal Temperance Legion, which has been held throughout the year in the community room of the city library, held a closing meeting on Monday afternoon of this week, and the children were dismissed for summer vacation. Much business was transacted. A flower committee was appointed consisting of Velma Nupen, Alice Meader, Lester Dolin, and Donald Mandigo. On the committee for taking flowers to hospitals, every member of L. T. L. is included, as any member of the committee.

The L. T. L. voted to plant in Custer Park the flower known as "Sunshine" flower.

Mrs. C. W. Smith had charge of the class for the closing session.

RETURNS TO MONTANA.

Mrs. Idelle, sister of the late Mrs. Joseph Hare, returned to her home in Helena, Montana, after a few days spent in Bismarck visiting old friends. Mrs. Idelle was enroute to her home of her daughter, Mrs. Slaughter, wife of Major Slaughter, at West Point Military Academy. Mrs. Idelle has had in her home since the death of their mother in Bismarck some years ago, the two youngest children of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Hare. The girl and boy are now finishing high school in Helena.

CASPARY-WRIGHT WEDDING IS SOLEMNIZED BEFORE MANY FRIENDS

MR. AND MRS. WRIGHT.

The marriage of two of Bismarck's young society people was solemnized at the Presbyterian church last evening, when Miss Bergholt Adelhalde Caspary became the bride of Mr. R. Sherman Wright. The church was decorated in a color scheme of green and white, fern and spirea banded against the organ loft and pulpit, with wreathing of smilax against a background of white, making a cool and dignified setting for the lovely bridal procession.

At 7:15 Mr. Norman Wright, of Crookston, Minn., youngest brother of the groom, took his place at the organ as accompanist for his brother Walter, of Chicago, who sang, "Love You." After a selection by Mr. Norman Wright on the organ, Mr. Humphreys sang, "O Promise Me." Immediately following this splendid wedding song, the strains of the Lohengrin Wedding March announced the coming of the bride. First came wee Gladys Riesen in a fluff of pink organdie ruffles and pink bonnet, bearing the ring, taking her place confidently by the side of the groom, who had entered with his best man, Mr. Henry Halverson, by way of the chancel door. Then came Jack Zuger in black satin knickers and roundabout with lace ruffs escorting a marvelous wisp of the days of pantaloons and crinolines in the very small person of Peggy Hankson, in stiff tulle gown of iridescent colors and a grave poke bonnet of black lace. These two perfect pictures of another day carried a basket of rose leaves which they industriously scattered in the path of the approaching bride and her attendants.

In Gold Georgette.
Mrs. Joe Tollerston, of Tower City, paced slowly up the long main aisle exquisitely gowned in gold georgette with hat to match, and carrying an arm bouquet of white peonies and Marguerite daisies. Taking her place as matron of honor, she was followed by the maid of honor, Miss Clara Knutson, of Warren, Minn., in pale blue georgette, and tulle hat with long black velvet streamer. The maid of honor carried a basket of peonies. Then came the four bridesmaids: Miss Alice Wright of Crookston, sister of the groom, in pale yellow gown and hat, carrying white peonies and daisies; Miss Isabelle Cochrane in orchid gown and hat, carrying American beauty color of peonies; Mrs. Anne Streib, Theilke of Akely, Minn., in gown and hat of pink georgette and carrying pink peonies. The last of the line in the pretty pastel color scheme came Miss Jennie Olive Silseth, a bride of later June, who was gowned in blue hat and streamers of pink. Miss Silseth, with a blue hat and a streamer of pink. Miss Silseth carried peonies of a deep rose shade. Taking their places in a line at the left of the pulpit some steps below the place given the matron of honor, best man, ring bearer and the bride couple, the ushers, Mr. Walter Wright, Donald McDonald, Herbert Lincoln, Herman Monson and Roy Inseth, stood attention on the opposite side from the bridesmaids, awaiting the coming of the bride, who came on the arm of an old friend of the family,

GUEST FROM SEATTLE.

Miss Lucille Loomis of Seattle is visiting at the home of Miss Mary Huber. Miss Loomis used to teach school in Bismarck.

UNDERWOOD GUEST.

Miss Helen Saylor of Underwood is

Mr. Gilbert Haugen, who gave the bride away.

The bridal gown of softest cream charmeuse, untrimmed except for a graceful draping made with a long court train hung from the shoulders over the short one-piece gown, voluminous veil of tulle was fastened about the head of the bride by a pearl head dress, arranged so as to show the pretty hair done in soft rolls on the back of the head. The bride's only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the groom. With the wedding gown were worn slippers of silver-brocade. The bride's bouquet was of pale pink rosebuds.

Rev. Munson officiates.
The impressive marriage service of Trinity Lutheran church was read by Rev. A. Munson of Hazen, N. D., father of Mr. Herman Munson of Bismarck.

Following the marriage vows, the bridal party and guests went at once to the Grand Pacific hotel, where a reception was held. The dining room of the hotel was arranged as a parlor, with punch bowl, bridal cake and sand bakes, on a pretty service table at the north end of the long room.

Receiving with the bride and groom were the attendants, and members of the two families. Mrs. Ingeltha Caspary, mother of the bride, wore grey georgette gown and hat, with corsage of lavender sweet peas. Mrs. A. J. Wright, mother of the groom, wore wisteria satin, with corsage of violet sweet peas. Mrs. Julia Holm, an aunt of the bride, was gowned in primrose yellow draped with black net and jet, with hat to match.

Short Program.

A short program was rendered by the guests, Messrs. Walter Wright, Henry Halverson, Frank Gale, and Misses Lillian Paulson and Norma DeVoi sang; Mrs. Genevieve Menard Hughes, and Mr. Norman Monson, rendered piano numbers; Miss DuVal made a selection, and Rev. Munson made a neat little address to the bride couple, reminding them of the solemnity of the marriage vows and finishing with several happy anecdotes.

The bride threw her bouquet when she retired to dress for the wedding journey, and Miss Helen Dahl, a young guest at the wedding, caught the prize. The bride traveled in automobile sports clothes, leather coat, tweed hat, and dark traveling dress. Their automobile was all ready for the six weeks' camping trip by way of Hot Springs, S. D., Denver, Salt Lake City, and Yellowstone park. The auto was all ready and snugly looked in the city, and was awaiting the eventful start for the west, but the brothers of the groom being artistic generally, had touched up the precious conveyance after entering by some unlawful means, so that the effect heightened almost to a point of exasperation of the couple, by means of lurid signs painted on the car. Even the tent in its illuminating legend to present its cheery note when undone at the stop of the wedding journey. The ornate equipage succeeded in boarding the last ferry across the Missouri at midnight, followed by the best wishes of the many friends in Bismarck.

Mother's Cook Book

The longer on this earth we live And weigh the various qualities of men, The more we feel the high, stern-featured beauty Or plain devotedness to duty. Steadfast and still, nor paid with mortal praise, But finding amplest recompense For life's ungratified expense In work done squarely and unwanted days.

—James Russell Lowell.

GOOD THINGS FOR ALL THE FAMILY.

ONE of the first essentials to a good meal is good bread of some kind. The following recipe will be found all right:

White Oatmeal Bread.
Pour two cupfuls of scalded milk over one cupful of rolled oats. Milk and water may be used if all milk is not economy; add a teaspoonful of salt, a tablespoonful of shortening and when lukewarm add one-third or more of a compressed yeast cake, softened with half a cupful of water. Add wheat flour to make a dough to knead and knead from five to ten minutes. Return to the mixing bowl, cover and let rise until double its bulk. Shape for two-pound loaf bread pans. When light, bake one hour. This recipe requires about five cupfuls of flour.

Lemon Honey Cakes.
Heat one cupful of honey to the boiling point; add two and one-half tablespoonfuls of shortening and let cool. When cold stir in one and one-half cupfuls of flour and set aside overnight. When ready to bake add the grated rind of a lemon, one and one-half tablespoonfuls of lemon juice, one-third of a cupful of finely chopped blanched almonds, one-third of a teaspoonful of soda dissolved in one tablespoonful of water. Beat all together thoroughly. Bake in small round cup cake pans for 20 minutes.

Molded Rice Pudding.
Cook one-half cupful of rice in one cupful of boiling water, to which half a teaspoonful of salt has been added. When the water is absorbed add one cupful of milk and one-half cupful of raisins, one-quarter of a cupful of sugar, and cook until the rice is tender, adding more milk if needed. Fold in the beaten white of an egg and turn into a mold. Serve cold with a sauce made from one pint of milk, one teaspoonful of cornstarch, one-third of a cupful of sugar, half a teaspoonful of salt and the beaten yolk of an egg; cook the cornstarch in the milk 15 minutes before adding the egg yolk. Use the sauce when cold. Garnish with a few raisins cooked until plump in boiling water. Flavor with vanilla.

A chocolate sauce is liked by some for a rice pudding and may be served either hot or cold.

THE ROMANCE OF WORDS

"CAUCUS."

THIS thoroughly American word, meaning a secret conference or meeting of the leaders of a political party, is frequently encountered in reports of the activities of congress or in connection with the work carried on during the time which immediately precedes presidential elections. Moreover, "caucus" owes its origin to one of the earliest of American politicians, Henry Adams, who was very prominent in colonial political circles during the early part of the eighteenth century.

Being desirous of controlling certain offices and of securing the appointment of men who were friendly to his interests, Adams organized a club composed for the most part of sea captains, shipwrights and other persons connected with mercantile interests. Partly to conceal the real nature of the club and partly because of the nautical atmosphere which surrounded it, the organization was known as the "Caulkers' club." Before long, rumors of its activities began to seep out and, when favorable appointments were named, people commenced to say, "That was settled by the 'Caulkers.'" As time passed the name of the club took on a more phonetic spelling and the new word, "caucus" was coined. (Copyright.)

LOVE—$500 A WORD
Heirs of the late James Whitcomb Riley, the Indiana poet, find that he got $500 a word in royalties on his love poem, "An Old Sweetheart of Mine."
This is said to be the most profitable price of writing per word on record.
Stevenson sold "Treasure Island" to a newspaper for $3 a column. "Paradise Lost" brought Milton only $25. Times have changed, thanks to the printing press and the business system which literary genius used to hold in contempt.
As late as a half century ago, artists starved. Business has made the arts profitable. Clyde Fitch in 18 years received $1,500,000 in royalties from his plays.
Do you envy Riley his $500 a word?
Cheer up! Your own love messages to your wife or best girl are worth more than $500 a word to her—and, after all, she counts most.

The Upper Silesia revolt is going to keep Marshal Foch from seeing the BIG FIGHT July 2. Sherman was right, marshal.
KEEP ON AGITATING
There are evidences that both legislative and executive branches of the federal government are moving with increasing speed in the direction of relieving the distress and providing for the comfort of the soldiers disabled in the war.

The commission appointed by President Harding is not only working along independent lines, but is co-operating with the committee of Congress which have in charge needed new legislation.
There is every reason to believe that official Washington thoroughly appreciates how remiss the government has been in caring for its disabled heroes and is making a sincere and intelligent effort to right the wrong.

In large measure, the government's activity is the result of public opinion created by the agitation of the soldiers' organizations.
The soldiers should keep on agitating and exposing every case of abuse and neglect that can be found.
The nation can never pay in full its debt to the disabled soldiers—the blind, the gassed, the crippled, the disfigured.
But until it has done everything that it is humanly possible to do to heal them and provide for economic independence, it will be falling short of its most sacred duty and obligation.
This is the one government activity in connection with which the word "economy" ought never be mentioned.

What the world needs is a month of absolute silence, according to James M. Beck, U. S. solicitor general. And he didn't wait for Congress to adjourn before he said it!

ABOUT YOUR BOY
What a boy does with the book-knowledge he gets in school depends chiefly upon the sort of life-knowledge he gets outside of school.
Minds are instructed in the class-room.
But motives and character are developed in the boy's spare time.
Out of every 100 boys, four are super-privileged in recreations and advantages, 30 have normal privileges, and 66 are under-privileged.
That's the estimate of the Boys' Club Federation, a national organization of 150 clubs with 102,900 boy members.
The under-privileged boy has the street, the alley and the vacant lot as his playground. The pool room is his clubhouse. The "gang" is the organization constantly inviting him.
It is from these under-privileged boys, from this rotten environment created by city life, that the youthful gunman and petty criminal usually are recruited.
Obviously, remove this criminal-breeding atmosphere—put the boys in a clean, constructive environment—and a potential criminal often can be made into an industrious, lawabiding citizen.
This thought occurred to Chicago business men. They went into one of the worst wards of Chicago and started a Boys' Club. This club has no age limit. Its slogan is, "If a boy is old enough to be out on the streets, he is old enough to be in our club."
The club, officered by shrewd psychologists, directs its boy-members' attention to healthy recreation.

In one year of operation, juvenile delinquency has decreased 73 per cent in that ward—due to the boys' club.
The evil that men do lives after them; the good is often misconstrued by the attorney for the other side.
THE PAINTED LADY
Ancient Rome had fappers and they wore their hair in huge puffs over their ears. This is discovered by a University of Arkansas investigator, Prof. H. H. Strauss.
Roman women, says Strauss, employed cold cream, rouge, lip sticks and false hair more freely than the most extreme of the women you see on Bismarck streets.
For the female to strive to make herself more attractive, is a perfectly natural process. It's characteristic of all life on earth. Mrs. Parmigan, bird of the Far North, grows bright feathers in the mating season—and changes to white feathers that hide her from foxes in the winter snows.
Life in Germany is just one Dill after another.
Generally, the farther you go for fish the fewer you get.
Most of civilization's problems end 100 yards beyond the suburbs.
No matter how profitable a business deal, it never equals the thrill of finding a $5 bill in an old suit.

It is charged that the Federal Reserve Board aided Wall Street. But don't overlook the aid it has given to those outside Wall Street.
Stefanson's going to take a trip 350 miles beyond the North Pole. Probably pay for it out of the money he'll save on his summer ice bills.
If the publishers of war memoirs want to wear out a few presses, why don't they induce some of the women who were behind the scenes to write their confessions?
Paris reports that the summer color will be the shade of Spanish onion peel. But it'll probably masquerade under a name that sounds like a new soda fountain drink.

TEARING DOWN AN IDOL
Some years ago an initiative and referendum amendment was added to the Missouri Constitution. The good bubbled with happy expectation. The short cut to perfection had been found. The Grand Secret of good government was revealed. Henceforth Missouri was to be the model of new-model Commonwealths. Our indomitable progressive friend, The Kansas City Star, was among the most passionate worshippers. Now, alas! it is ready to burn the god it adored. It "has been convinced by the experience of the last few years" that the disadvantages of the amendment "greatly outweigh its possible good to the State." Curious is the explanation of this backsliding. When the amendment was adopted the Legislature "had been notoriously under the control of big interests." There was always a fight to keep the Legislature from granting away the rights of the people. It was supposed that the power to submit laws to the people would protect their rights.
Since then, under the influence of the progressive movement, Legislatures "have become more responsive" to the popular will, and progressive legislative programs have been the outcome. That is, a progressive program is always the popular will. Strangely enough, the popular will has failed to confirm the progressive measures. The black-hearted interests "have turned to the initiative and referendum"—that is, to the people—"as the best weapon for attaining their ends." Thus, what was to be the majestic expression of the people's will expresses the will of miserable lawyers and loathsome corporations. Unbelievers in the sacred "reform" will surely not be brutal enough to intimate that the distress of its former friends in Missouri arises from their confusion of what they want with what the people want.
No doubt it is true, as our contemporary says, that "the laws attacked are often of a technical character, in which it is difficult to arouse general interest and which can be defeated by an interested minority;" but it is everywhere true that it is difficult to arouse the general interest in referendum, be the measures referred good, bad or indifferent. Moreover, when laws pullulate so multitudinously in every Legislature, and thousands of private societies make a business of manufacturing unnecessary statutes, what excuse is there for the initiative? Irrespective of how it works in particular cases or States, it is a false principle. This is or was a representative Government. Suppose we stick to it.—New York Times.

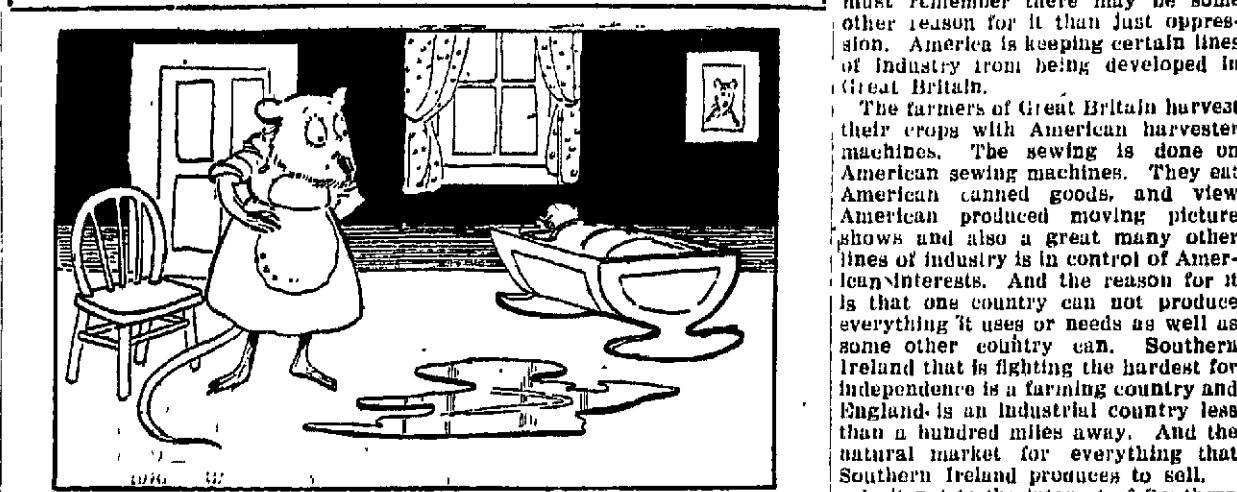

PEOPLE'S FORUM
IRISH FREEDOM.
Our fair city has been called upon to ask our government to recognize the so-called Republic of Ireland.
Such meddling in the internal affairs of a country that is friendly to our country can only destroy that friendship and in the long run lead us into another war that would wreck civilization.
Only a short while ago, the so-called Friends of Irish Freedom were working to keep this country from joining the League of Nations, because the League of Nations did not recognize Ireland as an independent country.
They succeeded in keeping this country from joining the League thereby by keeping this country from helping to settle some of the old world's troubles.
Now those same people are trying to make more trouble and draw this country into it, to wreck it.
It is such people that are destroying the Freedom of Ireland as well as the world's Freedom.
Some would have us believe it is England alone that is the cause of oppression in Ireland. They talk as if England alone made up the whole of Great Britain.
When in fact it is only a small part of Great Britain.
Ireland has had as much or more freedom than England has and during the war it had more freedom than any other spot on earth. During the war there was but one Englishman in the British cabinet, and he was born in Germany of English parents and for the most part the same holds true today.

England is ruled by Irish, Scottish and Welsh, but we never hear of England asking for home rule.
We hear people say England has kept industry from being developed in Ireland, that may be so, but we also must remember there may be some other reason for it than just oppression. America is keeping certain lines of industry from being developed in Great Britain.
The farmers of Great Britain harvest their crops with American harvester machines. The sewing is done on American sewing machines. They eat American canned goods, and view American produced moving picture shows and also a great many other lines of industry is in control of American interests. And the reason for it is that one country can not produce everything it uses or needs as well as some other country can. Southern Ireland that is fighting the hardest for independence is a farming country and England is an industrial country less than a hundred miles away. And the natural market for everything that Southern Ireland produces to sell, is it not to the interest of Southern Ireland to be able to have a voice in the country where the laws are made that govern her market?
If Ireland becomes a separate republic she will thereby lose her voice in the rest of Great Britain.
England can put import duty on Irish products that will rob Ireland of her new freedom.
If she leaves the protection of the British navy can she a little island build one alone powerful enough to maintain her independence? And if she fails a prey to some other naval power it will also destroy Great Britain for whoever is in control of Ireland can control the rest of the British Isles.
Mr. American citizen can you say it was easier for you to go to India, Africa, Australia, or any other place that is under the British flag at the present time and carry on a business or missionary work better before that place came under the British flag than you can now?
If it is true the English government has been oppressive to American in the past. It is also true the same government was oppressive to the English people at the time also. The common people of England can't understand why Americans have hard feeling toward them for things done in the past to us. The average Englishman does not know England lost a war to this country.

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS
By Olive Barton Roberts

Mrs. Muskrat went on a singing and a singing to her little baby muskrat. She sang three verses about Mr. Sprinkle-Blow. The weatherman, and how kind he was in everything. How he looked up Jack Frost, and Mr. Storm and Old Man Flood, and Sizzly Dry Weather, and thunder and lightning, and all the other Nuisance Fairies, and did everything he could to make it pleasant for everybody. She didn't sing about Nancy and Nick because she didn't know that they had gone to help the Weather Fairy. But she was going to know it soon.
Every verse she sang got a little bit louder than the one before, because the nice comfortable house that Mr. Muskrat had made for her and the babies beside Ripple Creek, there was a roaring which almost drowned the tones of her voice. It sounded like Mr. Storm, somewhat, but Mrs. Muskrat knew that it couldn't be Mr. Storm when her husband had just been in and said the sun was out bright and warm. She went on singing, and this was the last verse of her song:—"Oh, hush, darling, hush, baby, dear, we are happy and safe, never fear, Spring is coming now soon, by and by 'till he June, When the crickets and pollywogs sing to the moon, Jack Frost and his fairies who love so to tease, Have gone to the stars over the tops of the trees. Ne'er a storm nor a flood nor a bit of bad weather, Can hurt us, so cozily huddled together."
Suddenly she held up one of her feet. "Goodness gracious!" she exclaimed in dismay. "I wish that Mr. Muskrat would shake himself and wipe his feet on the doormat before he comes into the house. He's got this place dripping wet."
The roaring outside grew louder. (Copyright 1921 by Newspaper Enterprise.)

England can put import duty on Irish products that will rob Ireland of her new freedom.
If she leaves the protection of the British navy can she a little island build one alone powerful enough to maintain her independence? And if she fails a prey to some other naval power it will also destroy Great Britain for whoever is in control of Ireland can control the rest of the British Isles.
Mr. American citizen can you say it was easier for you to go to India, Africa, Australia, or any other place that is under the British flag at the present time and carry on a business or missionary work better before that place came under the British flag than you can now?
If it is true the English government has been oppressive to American in the past. It is also true the same government was oppressive to the English people at the time also. The common people of England can't understand why Americans have hard feeling toward them for things done in the past to us. The average Englishman does not know England lost a war to this country.
They have been taught in their

EVERETT TRUE BY CONDO

ALL WRONG
The Mistake is Made by Many Bismarck Citizens.
Look for the cause of backache.
To be cured you must know the cause.
If it's weak kidneys you must set the kidneys working right. Ask your neighbor.
A Bismarck resident tells you how.
Mrs. Jack Kenyon, 417 Mandan avenue, says: "Several years ago I gave a public recommendation for Doan's Kidney Pills after the benefit one of my family had received. Since then I have had occasion to use them myself for an attack of kidney trouble. I had puffy sacs underneath my eyes and pains in my back. It was hard for me to do my housework at times. My kidneys acted irregularly, too. Three boxes of Doan's Kidney Pills cured me and I am glad to again recommend Doan's, knowing them to be a remedy of wonderful merit. The cure they made for me has lasted several years."

schools in England has been always victorious in war. At a Fourth of July celebration in England three years ago, an English army officer asked an American officer in the camp where I was, why we Americans celebrated the Fourth of July. He was told it was on that day we licked hell out of England long ago, and that was the first time that Englishman knew it. There was such hard feeling between the American soldier and Englishman in the camp where I was stationed, that the British government sent a man to our camp to overcome some of the hard feeling, and that man sent to our camp by the British government told us there in American uniform that they knew the American soldier was a better fighter than the Englishman, and his audience was half Englishmen. He said you men have a better country to fight for, you have better homes, get better wages than the Englishman. He also said we know England wronged America in the past, but it could not be helped now. The only way it could be righted was for America and England to try to bury the past. We people here, say the English, now claim they won the World War. Englishmen in army uniform told us when we landed in England if you Yankees had stayed home the war would be over and we would have been licked and would not have to fight any more. The average Englishman gives America credit for what she done, but there are those that do not want Great Britain to live. So they have turned up the Irish to kill themselves and Great Britain. The Irish worker and farmer was in as good circumstances as the English worker and farmer is.
For in most cases the Irish farmer lives on his own farm that the British government sold him on long time payments. But the English farmer has to pay rent for his farm to some lord or duke. Ireland is being oppressed but it is partly her own fault, for she has listened to the agents of Germany in the past and no doubt she is paying too much attention to the agents of Russia, and some element in America that would like to strike at the heart of Great Britain. Ireland is full of troublemakers that want to drive the world into another war, hoping that thereby they may come into power and control. One of the main causes of Irish trouble is the religious issue. When a stranger gets off a train in an Irish town the first question asked is his religion. I spent several days in Ireland while I was in the U. S. army and I met a number of people that depended on the British soldier for protection from death at the hands of the people that were demanding independence. About one third of Southern Ireland was opposed to a separate republic then. The only way the world will end itself of the trouble of that little bit of hell, that was once a little bit of heaven has caused is for the world to quarantine that little spot and let no one in or out of that little island, till the fever dies down. When America can guarantee to the world she has no race riots or other burden of that sort, it will then be time for our fair city to ask our government to meddle in the affairs of other countries. Let us join the League of Nations if we are to be meddling in the affairs of Europe.

TROUBLED FOR TEN YEARS
If you suffer pains and aches during the day and sleep-disturbing bladder weakness by night, feel tired, nervous and run down, the kidneys and bladder need to be restored to healthy and regular action. J. T. Osburn, R. F. D. No. 1, Lucasville, O., writes: "I had kidney trouble for ten years. I tried many remedies but they did me no good. I took Foley Kidney Pills and they helped me so much that now I am well." Don't delay. Adv

Didn't Waste Money on Food
"The recent campaign against wastefulness in eating, did not affect me much as I haven't been able to eat anything but toast and tea for the past five years. Even that would create gas and cause me distress. My weight was down to eighty-four pounds and my complexion muddy. I had frequent pains in the region of my appendix. I am glad I did not listen to an operation, as Mrs. A. Wonderful Remedy has made a new woman of me." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded.

LEONARD HOLDS ON TO TITLE

Harrison, N. J., June 7.—Benny Leonard defended his title of lightweight champion of the world in a 12-round bout here last night at the Newark baseball club's park. His opponent being Rocky Kansas of Buffalo. Under the New Jersey law no decision by the referee is allowed, but in the opinion of the majority of the experts around the ringside Leonard cleverly outpointed his opponent. There were few hard or telling blows and Leonard had nearly all of these to his credit. Kansas was inclined to be the aggressor most of the time but this was counter-balanced by the champion's cleverness.

REMOVING SNOW FROM ROADS

Becoming Increasingly Important Because of Large Amount of Travel During Winter.

Snow removal from highways is becoming increasingly important because of the large amount of travel by motorcars and automobiles. Several states have made appropriations for removal of snow from the main highways but in other states there has been no appropriation of funds for this purpose. Vast quantities of commodities must be hauled over the highways next winter because of the lack of sufficient railway cars to move them, and state money, rather than local funds ought to be used to keep truck highways open.

IMPROVED ROADS WOULD AID

Many Counties Rich in Agricultural Possibilities Are Burdened With Poor Roads.

Fluctuations in market prices may have several explanations. They frequently take place in regions where the local production does not equal the annual consumption. There are counties rich in agricultural possibilities, burdened with bad roads, where the annual incoming shipments of foodstuffs exceed the outgoing shipments in the ratio of four to one. Many such counties with improved roads could not only become self-supporting, but could ship products to other markets.

NUMBER OF SUBURBANITES WHO KEEP CARS AT HOME INCREASE

Garage Combines Art and Utility.

In the early days of the automobile, and, in fact, quite recently, the owner was satisfied to house his car in almost anything that had a roof, garages were unknown and owners of cars had little thought of that item, the barn being sufficient for one's needs.

Not so today. With the growing popularity of the automobile, especially among the suburbanites, there has come a demand for a private garage. The owner, with whom efficiency has become a habit, demands more than a mere housing; he aims to have a building that is distinctive in design, often fireproof, durable, and equipped to facilitate the work; his car must be subject to his immediate call.

What is more, the practice of keeping the car at home is more practical and satisfactory now than in former years, since automobiles have been brought to a degree of reliability that makes frequent and extensive repairing unnecessary. The average owner of a car finds it no troublesome task to clean and adjust his own car, and to care for it on his premises. The number of men who operate and look after their own cars is increasing annually. For many, this is not only cheaper, but a more pleasant arrangement.

The garage, therefore, has become indispensable for the owner's convenience and thus forms quite a necessary adjunct to the home. There are few structures which are so useful or so necessary in which the artistic features are so generally overlooked.

Primarily, the garage is a building intended to shelter the automobile; it may be attractive and well constructed, but if the architectural treatment does not harmonize with the adjacent buildings, the general effect is somewhat displeasing.

Style and Location.

The style of the garage is a matter that may be safely left to the discretion of the architect. The logical location of the garage is at the rear of the house. This is a point, however, that can be discussed only generally, as individual requirements may make it necessary to locate the garage elsewhere on the property. Considerable thought should be given to the selection of the site, and the choice should be influenced by the idea of convenience and accessibility from the road.

The living habits and conditions of a great many people have created a new architectural problem in designing the suburban house with an adjoining garage. To the man building a home of moderate cost this close proximity of his garage is of advantage, in that it places his car at his immediate disposal.

While the minor details of a garage must necessarily differ in individual cases, there are certain essential principles which should be generally observed. The details to be first considered by the owner might be enumerated as follows: First, the selection of an accessible site; second, protection from fire; third, efficiently meeting the needs of the owner; fourth, a convenient arrangement of the various parts.

Danger of Wood Buildings. It is hardly necessary to say that wood garages are not to be encouraged, as the danger of fire is greatly increased when cars are stored in frame buildings. In addition, there is always danger to adjacent property in case of fire starting within. It is possible to design a garage which shall be absolutely fireproof against danger from within or without.

Where hot water or steam is used for heating purposes, complete isolation of the boiler room from the main part of the building is necessary. The car room should be ventilated both at the bottom and at the top, so as to promote circulation of the air. Venting the car room from the top alone will naturally draw off foul air, but will not remove gasoline fumes.

The rules of the National Board of Fire Underwriters' association make it necessary that the storage tanks for gasoline be placed under ground below the level of the lowest pipe used for filling the tank or delivering the gasoline, and preferably about ten feet away from the building. The tank should be of steel plate, securely riveted and galvanized on the outside, and coated with rust-proof paint, provided with a fill pipe and a vent pipe.

The floor of the car room should be constructed of noncombustible material, with surfaces that will not absorb oil, all angles should be covered to avoid sharp corners for dirt to lodge in. The flushing of the car room will be greatly facilitated in this way. The collection of oil and grease in the corners of the average garage account for much of the disagreeable odors. The entire floor should slope to the drain, provided with a "mud-trap."

Sliding Doors Convenient.

An arrangement of entrance doors to the car room which has found popular favor consists of three sliding doors working on an overhead track, and so arranged that either one of the end doors with the middle door will slide past the other and door; this arrangement allows two-thirds of the width of the entire door opening on one side or the other for a car to enter. Such arrangement is especially suited for a two-car garage where the width for the door opening is limited.

In garages for several cars, turntables are often installed, but where same are used these should combine simplicity, compactness and ease of operation in their own mechanical construction. The space under the turntable must be drained.

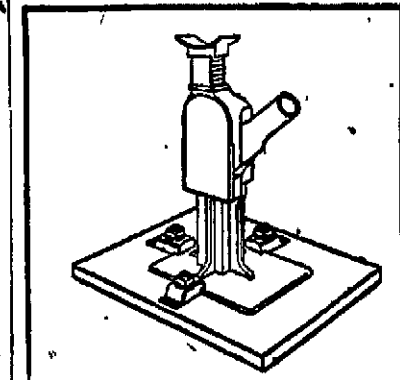

Some other requisites relative to the well-equipped garage include a repair pit, which should have an outlet at the rear, so that in case of fire it would form a means of egress for the mechanic.

LIFTING JACK HELD FIRMLY

No Difficulty in Maintaining True Vertical Position by Use of Newly Invented Device.

The Scientific American, in illustrating and describing a lifting jack, the invention of A. E. Hutchinson and H. Krah of Brooklyn, N. Y., says:

This invention pertains more particularly to lifting jacks especially employed as an accessory of motor vehicles. In jacks of this type difficulty has been experienced in maintaining the jack in true vertical alignment during the lifting operation. In this device a rigid base is provided, capable of removal, and with securing means which may be adjusted with respect to the base.

TO CLEAN MOTOR CYLINDERS

Plan to Keep Oily Water From Forming While Carbon Deposit Is Being Removed.

When the cylinder head of a motor is detached for the purpose of removing the carbon deposit it will be noticed that during the process of scraping the piston, etc., the tapped holes on the top of the cylinder casting soon get full of oily carbon water, etc., causing trouble to remove when it is decided to insert the hold-down set screws, writes R. O. Allen in American Motorist. To obviate this I have used short screws without heads on, but with a screwdriver slot in them, and screw them in flush with the top of the cylinder casting before scraping operations are commenced. After the decarbonizing is completed the grub screws can be removed, when holes will be found free from dirt.

TO FIX BATTERY TERMINALS

Removing With Hammer Endanger Plates, but a "C" Clamp May Be Used With Safety.

Storage battery terminals are often difficult to remove, especially after the battery has been on the car so long, that they are corroded. Removing them with a hammer endangers the plates, but a "C" clamp may be used with safety and with dispatch. Place the clamp with the lip resting against the terminal and the screw against the connector. After a couple of turns with the wrench the cable comes out easily.

LEGION FLAG ADDS HISTORY

Ex-Servicemen's Emblem Now Proudly Flies Where Five Others Held Sway.

The American Legion flag will fly in a part of New Orleans that has been under five flags, for the city administration has turned over a building in the heart of the old French quarter to posts of the Legion for four years.

Not far from the Legion building is the Spanish Cabildo where the Spanish colors flew in the breezes from the Gulf of Mexico until they were replaced by the French. The Louisiana Purchase in 1804 resulted in the appearance of the Stars and Stripes on the ramparts. In 1812, the British flag flew also in that vicinity for a few days. During the Civil war the Confederate colors waved proudly over the southern city. When the wounds of civil strife were healed the Stars and Stripes again reappeared.

The Legion building will have an auditorium, offices and clubrooms. It will also house Louisiana department headquarters, the Legion employment and service bureau, local posts, the Women's Auxiliary headquarters and the Pelicanaire, official organ of the Louisiana department.

INGROWN NAIL

Toe Nail Turns Out Itself If You Toughen Skin

A noted authority says that a few drops of "Outgro" upon the skin surrounding the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender sensitive skin underneath the nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night. "Outgro" is a harmless, antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store, a tiny bottle containing directions.

MR. GIBSON IS NOW BACK AT THE MCKENZIE

The McKenzie wishes to announce that they have again secured the services of Mr. Earl Gibson, the popular pianist, who has been at the Maitland in Portland, Ore., since leaving here, and whom it has been impossible to get until this time, together with Mr. Norman Dybvik, an accomplished Marimba-phone artist, and are again in a position to furnish the high class of music formerly enjoyed. The principal reason for discontinuing the Dinner Dances was due to inability to get the right music, and feel sure that with the talent now available everyone will enjoy the entertainment that again will be furnished.

We furnish the BEST—Peppiest—SNAPPY and Up-to-the-Minute Jazz Orchestra in the Northwest, for parties in surrounding towns at lowest rates. Phone or write, The McKenzie, Bismarck, for engagements.

Washington, June 7.—The house sent the naval appropriations bill to conference today without instructing its conferees how they should vote on the Borah disarmament resolution.

KEEPING TO THE RIGHT PATH

It is easy to sell insurance, but it is not easy to sell it right. It is easy to forget the insured's rights, but this does not make a large and paying insurance business.

We treat every client the same—the best we know how. After we have written your policy, we feel responsible for it. Don't think that it's a bother to answer questions. It's a pleasure. It's what we are here for. Have our representative see you.
